HONORED ALIKE BY A REUNITED PEOPLE.

Visits of Decoration—President Cleveland Visits New York to Attend Ceremonies There—Impressive Exercises in All Parts of the Country—A Lesson of Charity.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—President Cleveland and the secretaries of war, the navy, the interior and the postmaster-general, are in New York to-day, participating in the Decoration Day ceremonies. All of the public offices in Washington are closed, and by agreement, nearly all the banking houses and many of the business houses are closed. A great throng paraded the streets and filled the neighboring cemeteries, where impressive ceremonies were held, but the drizzling weather and the chilly atmosphere detracted from the comfort of those whose duty and inclination led them abroad, and the number of listeners to the various orators was much less than usual. Formal ceremonies were held at Arlington at the Soldiers' Home, at the Congressional, Battle and Oak Hill cemeteries. The moist atmosphere, which caused the ground to be very wet, and the flowers, which were in great profusion upon the graves and monuments, and will retain their lustre and freshness until the sun again appears.

At the grand stand with the president were Secretaries of War, of the Interior, of the Post Office, General Vilas and General Hancock, Major Grace and General Doubleday, and General Slocum.

Among the prominent veterans in procession were Generals Henry E. Davis, Henry A. Barnum, John Cochran, Charles P. Stone, Daniel E. Sickler and Edward Jordan. The fire department were also represented. The procession, Brooklyn was a great success. Flags flew from all the public buildings and from many private dwellings. The courts and public offices were closed and all the monuments in the city were adorned with flags. The military and the various posts of the Grand Army of the Republic paraded and were reviewed by Governor Allibone and his staff.

EXERCISES AT WINGFIELD.

WINGFIELD, W. Va., May 30.—Memorial service was held this afternoon under the auspices of the Cornell band at the National cemetery near the city. A procession was formed with the Light Infantry under Captain Aiton, the clergy and citizens, carried by the band and family. The band marched in a hорizontally mutilated condition. The daughter had been hung alive by a hook stuck in the back of her head, and Mrs. Phillips had had her eyes gouged out and her fingers cut off, and was otherwise brutally mangled. The citizens of this place are frantic at such outrages should be perpetrated without check.

THE DAY OBSERVED IN PITTSBURG.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 30.—This being federal memorial day, the graves of the union soldiers buried in Popular Grove and in the cemetery near the City Point, since George county were decorated. Several thousand union soldiers are buried in these cemeteries. All the government offices here were closed in observance of the day.

THE DAY IN PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—Although the weather was very bad, and with occasional showers, the day was generally observed as a holiday. Impressive services were held at all the cemeteries.

HONOR TO GENERAL GRANT.

NEW YORK, May 30.—Decoration Day being a legal holiday, all the exercises and downtown places were closed, and the city had much the appearance of Sunday. The Seventh regiment, while marching from their armory to the position they were to occupy in the procession, paraded past General Grant's house. The general stood at his window and reviewed the regiment as it filed past. He had a large family, and was very fond of his wife. The other members of his family stood at other windows. When Colonel Voss was abreast of the house he saluted the general, and the latter lifted his right hand and returned the courtesy in military fashion. They arrived at Laredo only a few days ago from New York city on their way to the front, and the general, who had been sent about sixty miles south of Laredo. They were murdered to-day by thieving bandits, en route from Silena's station, to the south.

DEORATION DAY IN JACKSONVILLE.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 30.—Decoration Day was observed here to-day for the first time by an order of the governor. The local military companies and civic societies entered Mitchell post Grand Army of the Republic to the cemetery, where addresses were made and the graves of both union and confederate soldiers were decorated by thirty-eight little girls representing the states of the union. Citizens turned out in large numbers and the best of the day was a large one.

THE LIBERTY BELL'S EXPENSES.

NEW ORLEANS, May 30.—The attorney for the committee of one hundred made an application to-day to the state court for an injunction restraining the city council from using $5,000 appropriated by the council to defray the expenses of the annual meeting of the national convention of the city of New Orleans, of which he was president, governor some time ago. Prominent army officers generally say there is no possibility of Gonzalez interfering with the government or disturbing public peace, because the army will remain loyal to the government.

A FRATERNAL CELEBRATION.

RICHMOND, Va., May 30.—Decoration Day was duly observed here by the decoration of the graves of ex-union and ex-confederate soldiers in the national cemetery and the ex-president and ex-President Gonzalez had occurred here some days ago. Nothing has happened to interrupt the usual course of business, and better feelings prevail. General Grant, who was president, governor some time ago, was president of the national convention of which he was president, governor some time ago. Prominent army officers generally say there is no possibility of Gonzalez interfering with the government or disturbing public peace, because the army will remain loyal to the government.

THE BLUE AND THE GRAY ALIKE.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 30.—Decoration Day was generally observed here. The graves of ex-union and ex-confederate soldiers in the national cemetery were decorated by the joint action of the graves and post and the ex-president. Orders were delivered at Oakland cemetery, by Colonel T. M. Gibson, ex-confederate soldier, and ex-Congressman J. H. Rogers. The attendance was large.

A FRATERNAL CELEBRATION.

BIRMINGHAM, N. Y., May 30.—At Deposit, a town on the Erie road, 45 miles east of this city, occurred to-day an awful tragedy. George Axtell, a young man residing eight miles from Deposit, visited that place and drank more or less during the day. About 3:45 o'clock, when he was walking home, he was attacked at a negro water and pulling a revolver, began firing. The saloon was crowded, Axtell fired five shots, killing two men, outright, and wounding a third fatally, and two more quite seriously. The men killed were William Perry, aged 38, a jeweler, and C. French, aged 23, a waiter. Perry was a farmer, and French was shot in the bowl and fatally wounded. Fred Weaver had his nose broken by a bullet, and another man whose name is unknown, was shot through the cheek. Axtell, after a desperate fight, was arrested by Officer Wilson and is now in jail here.

A DEFENDANT MURDERER.

LYNCHBURG, Va., May 30.—Reuben Knott, a passenger agent of the Ohio and Mississippi railroad, brought a libel suit for $50,000 damages in the United States court to-day against Daniel McArthur and Frederick H. Bacon, publishers of the Railway Register, of this city. The suit the result of a publication in the Register stating that Shattuck was growing rich by making his local ticket agents divide their commissions with him.

MURDERING A NEGRO.

BIRMINGHAM, N. Y., May 30.—Robert Broadus, a prosperous young cattle man, shot R. C. Johnson, an architect, of this city, this evening, and then committed suicide. The shooting was caused by the architect, Johnson, having paid a young lady, to whom he was engaged, $100, and Broadus had been enraged. Johnson received three balls in his body and his physicians say he cannot recover.

A DEFENDANT MURDERER.

PORT DEPOSIT, Md., May 30.—At Woodlawn, Cecil county, this morning, Robert Barnes shot and killed his mother-in-law, Tobie Barnes, and his own twelve-year-old son, Arthur Barnes. Another son is reported dead. Barnes had his nose broken by a bullet, and another man whose name is unknown, was shot through the cheek. Axtell, after a desperate fight, was arrested by Officer Wilson and is now in jail here.

REWARD FOR LYNCHERS.

LYNCHBURG, Va., May 30.—A reward of $1,000 is offered by the state for the discovery of the lynchers of Harrison Terry, who was hanged by a mob at Liberty, Bedford county, on May 22. The reward has stimulated a number of detective agencies to search them out. All persons who were not known in the neighborhood were notified that detectives would not be tolerated, and one officer who refused to take the hint was tied up and severely whipped. Notwithstanding all precautions taken to guard against discovery a detective who arrived at Liberty to day claims to have a list of the ringleaders. The report creates much excitement, as it is believed by many that some of the best citizens of Bedford county are involved.

A FEDERAL DAY IN LONDON.

LONDON, May 30.—To-day is the dullest news day London has had for months. There seems to be nothing going on worth talking about. All statesmen, whose actions generally furnish staple political news, except Mr. Gladstone, are away enjoying the Whitsuntide holidays, and the premier is resting.

A FEDERAL DAY IN LONDON.

PETERSBURG, Va., May 30.—George J. Rogers, a wood and lumber dealer of this city, has assigned to secure his creditors, in the sum of $21,000.

INTERVIEW WITH MR. DAVIS.

Dr. Garnett, of Washington, Visits the Ex-President.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Doctor A. Y. P. Garnett, a prominent physician of this city, while on a recent trip south, visited Jefferson Davis, with whom he has had a long and intimate acquaintance. The Star this evening published an interview with Dr. Garnett, in which the views of the ex-confederate president are given upon the political situation and other topics. Dr. Garnett says:

"In the course of our conversation during the day Dr. Davis allowed to the political condition of the country by saying that he knew nothing of the political situation in the South, and had not progressed far enough with his administration for him to form an opinion of it. He seemed satisfied with the manner in which the South had conducted itself during the war, and was very hopeful of our future, as he said the respect, love and admiration for the confederate nation, which animated the citizens of the United States before the war, had now departed from our people, and that the system of government erected by our forefathers in our country in accordance with the principles of disinterment and disruption at work in our midst which could only be restrained and held in check by the strict observance of the fundamental principles upon which our system of government was erected and upon which the constitution as it was before the war rested are fast disappearing. He said nothing, however, about the rule of republicanism during the war, and never learned by young: that under the rule of republicanism during the war, the South had done more for the confederate cause than the North, and that whilst this party of so-called liberal ideas was proclaiming the principles of equality and freedom, the South was maintaining the slaves in great profusion upon the graves and monuments, and will retain their lustre and freshness until the sun again appears."

"At the grand stand with the president were Secretaries of War, of the Interior, of the Post Office, General Vilas and General Hancock, Major Grace and General Doubleday, and General Slocum.

Among the prominent veterans in procession were Generals Henry E. Davis, Henry A. Barnum, John Cochran, Charles P. Stone, Daniel E. Sickler and Edward Jordan. ## THE DAY IN MACON.

THE MYSTERIOUS DEATH OF TOM HILL BEING DISCUSSED.

Other News From the Central City—Superior and Circuit Courts—Ed McLaren Paralyzed—Persons and Officers Agreed to Disagree—The Sawyer Case—Personal.

MACON, Ga., May 30.—[Special.]—About three weeks ago Tom Hill, a negro, a country farmer, was found dead in his house. This occurred on a Sunday night about ten o'clock. The day before Hill came to Macon and received from a man or from a warehouse, several thousand dollars, which he carried home with him. He was an eccentric man, unmarried, and lived all alone. His cook claimed to have discovered his death, probably a few moments after it occurred. Hill's death was ascribed to heart disease, and he was buried without an inquest being held.

After the burial it was whispered around that several suspicious circumstances suggested that Hill had been murdered. The whispers grew into well-defined rumors, and now the people of Twiggs county are seriously discussing the advisability of exhuming Hill's body and holding a coroner's inquest over it.

The following are the statements made by Hill's cook, a negro woman, said that she passed the window of his room at 10 on the night of his death and saw him lying on the floor dead. She informed the neighbors, among whom were the dead man's brother and nephew. The latter was Hill's adopted son and inherited his property. When an examination of Hill's body was made, it was discovered that his skull had been crushed. Some of the persons present thought this might have been done by Hill's suddenly falling to the floor and striking his head against a chair, or some sharp-pointed instrument. The position of the body, however, prevented the acceptance of this theory. No chair, nor anything else likely to produce the wound, was near.

Another suspicious circumstance was, that a much larger sum of money was expected to be found on the dead man's person than was found. It was known that he had brought several thousand dollars from Macon, but only a small sum comparatively, was discovered in the house.

Still another cause of suspicion was the absence of a fine gold watch and chain which Hill always wore. When this loss was discovered, Hill's brother accused the cook of stealing the article, and told her that he would kill her if she did not produce them. She hastily left the room, but soon returned, bringing the watch and chain.

Hill's nephew desired to have an inquest held, but it was afterwards decided to be unnecessary.

Ed McLaren Paralyzed.

MACON, Ga., May 30.—[Special.]—This morning atto o'clock, Mr. McLaren was in the second story of Lamar, Rankin & Lamar's drug establishment on Cherry street, taking stock. The clerk who was assisting him called out several articles for Mr. McLaren to check off, and received the response, "I don't know the price of that." When Mr. McLaren was satisfied, and found him unable to speak or to move, Mr. Ferguson and Moon were informed, and they at once pronounced the drug store as the scene of the accident. It was thought that a blood vessel in Mr. McLaren's head broke, causing injury to the brain. The entire party then took the negro to the hospital and removed to the residence of his father-in-law, Colonel H. J. Lamar, in Vineville, and everything possible was done for him.

This afternoon Mr. McLaren was resting without pain, but his condition is regarded as precarious. He may not live twelve hours, although there is a possibility of his recovery.

Agreed to Disagree.

MACON, Ga., May 30.—[Special.]—Robert Maddox was before Justice M. R. Freeman this morning charged with having lied to his wife. The wife, it is claimed, that Robert lied to her to support the entire family, and that whenever he lied, he abused her without reason. The case was settled by an agreement between the parties to separate, the woman retaining their two children.

Personating an Officer.

MACON, Ga., May 30.—[Special.]—John Thomas is a farmer who lives in Rutland district, Bibb county. He has had in his employ a negro lad named Thomas Simmons, whose mother, Dinah Simmons, lives in this city. Dinah objected to Thomas' person, and told him to go and not return at any time and do not do it. Thomas paid no attention to Dinah's wishes in the matter, and every time the lad returned to his mother, she would come to the city and take him away from her. A few days ago the lad ran away and again returned to his mother. Thomas employed a young white man named J. H. Chasteen to bring the boy back. Chasteen went to Dinah's house and told her that he had arrested the boy and arrested him and returned him to Thomas. Dinah swore out a warrant against Chasteen for kidnapping.

Sgt. Balfour Henderson arrested the false sheriff yesterday, and to-day he was brought before Justice M. R. Freeman, who stated that he acted as Thomas' agent, believing him to be an officer of the law. The question continued the case until Thomas could be tried, and he was found guilty of a very grave offense, and that both would be severely punished unless they could show good cause why they should not be.

The Sawyer Gt. Cases.

MACON, Ga., May 30.—[Special.]—The celebrated case of P. C. Sawyer vs. O. H. Miller, and P. C. Sawyer vs. Carthart and Caud, and Mrs. O. W. Massey, are likely again to attract wide attention. Efforts to throw the case out of court have failed, and they will be tried on their merits as soon as they can be fixed by Judge Speer. Some very valuable patents are involved, and if Sawyer should win the suits, he will come into a property which will make him a rich man.

The Superior Court.

MACON, Ga., May 30.—[Special.]—In the superior court to day a new trial was granted in the case of McKinney vs. McKinney, application for divorce.

The case of G. B. Roberts vs. Jahan and Ellis, and C. E. Pearson, assignee, in which Roberts sought to enjoin the assignee from paying out any money to Pearson, was adjourned until the 10th of June. The firm of L. W. Hollingsworth, in application in equity for the division of store property on Fourth street, Moon, the decree was rendered, dividing the same among H. H. Hollingsworth's children, he having surrendered his interest in the property in open court.

The application for injunction was taken up until the 1st of June.

The case of J. T. Jones, the criminal docket will be taken up June 1st. Gainesville, will probably preside for Judge Simmons, the latter having been on the bench since the second week in January and need not be in court will adjourn for the term about the 1st of July.

The United States Court.

MACON, Ga., May 30.—[Special.]—Judge Speer received a right hand blow from a negro, John Smith, at Athens, of his father-in-law, Mr. A. P. Deser, this morning the judge and his wife left for Athens, and the courts were adjourned by United States Marshal E. C. Wade, the district court for the term, and the circuit court until next Thursday week.

Judge Speer has presided over the United States courts with dignity and ability, pleasing both bar and public. His decisions have been absolutely impartial, and the decisions have been absolutely impartial. As to the officers of the court, they are all gentle, and well fitted for the positions they occupy, and have done their best to enforce the laws without fear or favor.

In the circuit court, the number of criminal cases, when the term of June 1st, was twenty-six. Of these fifteen were convicted, and acquited, six no pros and two continued. In the district court there were two criminal cases, and the convicts were sentenced to six months; D. G. Johnson, obstructing an officer, two months.

The civil side of the courts, ten cases were disposed of by jury trial and final decree on the evidence. Seven cases were tried on demurrer, and a few cases. Besides there quite a number of preliminary cases were dismissed by interlocutory decree in cause still pending. The promptness with which the business was transacted has been the subject of much favorable comment.

Personal and Other news.

MACON, Ga., May 30.—[Special.]—H. H. King, clerk of the United States circuit court at Savannah, is spending a few days in Macon.

Sanitary Inspector William Stephan has been left a legacy of ten thousand dollars by a relative who died recently in Germany. Stephan will leave for Germany in a few days, in quest of the money.

Brown, of Florida, who is a pupil of the college.

W. T. Maynard, of Forsyth, spent to-day in Atlanta.

A finely executed oil painting, representing a bird's eye view of Vineyard from the rear windows of the Wesleyan Female college, is on exhibition at W. B. Dugan's Fine Art Galleries, 125 Peachtree street. The painting is the work of Miss Annie Bryan, of Florida, who is a pupil of the college.

W. S. Curran and Thomas E. Tracy, of Augusta, registered at the Edison.

J. R. Bryan, of Atlanta, spent to-day in Macon.

At fifteen minutes after nine o'clock to-night the fire department was called out by the fire bell in an out house in the rear of Zelia Ivey's establishment on Peachtree street. The fire was extinguished.

The following are the statements made by Hill's cook, a negro woman, said that she passed the window of his room at 10 on the night of his death and saw him lying on the floor dead. She informed the neighbors, among whom were the dead man's brother and nephew. The latter was Hill's adopted son and inherited his property. ATHENS, Ga., May 30.—[Special.]—The seniors of the university now present a busy spectacle. Recitations have been completed, they are now overwhelmed with final examinations, and on the 17th of June they will have concluded their work as university students.

The seniors now have before them, and are anxious to overcome the burden of their studies and a diploma can only be comprehended by one who has graduated from university. But, though they are anxious now to complete their course, it is nevertheless with seniors that when they come to take the final farewell they break down and long for the continuance of college associations.

While most of the class are now overwhelmed with work, some are more fortunate, and will be enabled to obtain a degree without the terrible trials of long days in the examination room. This, however, comes of a misfortune; a short while since measles developed on the campus and the result was that several of the seniors were struck with the dread disease. It was not advisable for them to use their eyes now, for all of them have recovered, the faculty requires them to stand oral examinations. They get some kind friend to read over to them the final report, and then they are quizzed by professor.

Twenty-four will receive diplomas this year. It is a class of unusual talent and ability.

According to the usual custom ten speaker's pieces will be awarded to those standing highest in the class, but, as yet, only six are conceded to be sure to be chosen.

These are Messrs. P. H. Adams, Irvin Alexander, W. H. Barrett, Jr., W. D. Carswell, T. N. Kitchens and E. M. Mitchell.

Of these Mr. Barrett will take the honor in the literary course. B. H. Ross, Mr. Mitchell in the scientific course B. S., while Mr. Kitchens will best it off in the scientific course B. E.

In the literary course A. B., the close character of the marks of three young men renders it impossible to determine who will be the fortunate leader. However, Messrs. Adams, Carswell, and Mitchell are competing for it, and the answer will only be known at the close of the examinations by the announcement of all honors and places. It matters not who will be so fortunate as to obtain the places, a good programme is assured.

The speaker concluded as follows:

"The most attractive side of southern student life is the annual spring meeting, when the young men bring their women crowding every avenue of the higher education, often daughers and wives of prominent men, and the young men in the great civil war, beginning life as teachers in the common schools. Let them have their way; there is no danger that they will be led into any vice, for they are young and full of life. The young men are the pillars of the nation, and the young women are the pillars of the home. Let them be the pillars of the nation, and the young women are the pillars of the home."

NEWS FROM THE SOUTH.

ROME, Ga., May 30.—[Special.]—Colonel James W. Pease, Colonel Jim Norman and other of the first inhabitants of Columbus were members of the first fire department the city. The men who were most esteemed and respected citizens is seriously sick.

Mr. J. G. Strupper is one of the oldest firemen in Columbus, and in speaking of the firemen's parade on Saturday last, he said it reminded him of the first parade the Columbus fire department ever had.

Mr. Ferguson and Moon were informed that the fire was started in the house of Mr. McLellan.

Colonel H. J. Lamar, in Vineville, and everything possible was done for him.

This afternoon Mr. McLellan was resting without pain, but his condition is regarded as precarious. He may not live twelve hours, although there is a possibility of his recovery.

The following are the statements made by Hill's cook, a negro woman, said that she passed the window of his room at 10 on the night of his death and saw him lying on the floor dead. She informed the neighbors, among whom were the dead man's brother and nephew. The latter was Hill's adopted son and inherited his property. When an examination of Hill's body was made, it was discovered that his skull had been crushed. Some of the persons present thought this might have been done by Hill's suddenly falling to the floor and striking his head against a chair, or some sharp-pointed instrument.

The mortuary report for the week ended to-day shows 150 deaths; white males, five colored males, one colored female.

ATHENS, Ga., May 30.—[Special.]—The annual meeting of the trustees of Paine Institute to-day was presided over by Rev. Jas. E. Evans, president. Paine institute, established in August, 1883, for educating colored preachers and teachers is under the control of the Methodist Episcopal church, south. The reports made by President Evans and Treasurer Charles G. Goodrich show satisfactory progress, and the payment of all expenses, and seventy-five per cent of the teachers' salaries by voluntary subscriptions. The trustees will make formal report to the general conference of the south at the meeting of the trustees in Baltimore next year.

Mr. J. G. Strupper is one of the oldest firemen in Columbus, and in speaking of the firemen's parade on Saturday last, he said it reminded him of the first parade the Columbus fire department ever had.

GEORGIA PRODUCTS.

Capacity of Georgia Soil Under High Cultivation all Over the State.

The various agricultural products common to Georgia, having been given with minuteness in the chapter on soils and productions, we proceed to give the results of a number of experiments in the cultivation of those products, in each of those divisions, conducted with proper preparation and fertilization—such as are given in the more densely settled portions of the world. As but little is accomplished by inadequate means in any department of human industry, the act of producing capacity of a country can only be tested by the results of judicious culture. The crops, to which we shall refer, were reported to the various state and county fairs in the past few years, and both the culture and its results were verified by the affidavits of disinterested parties.

In 1873, Mr. R. H. Hardaway produced, upland, in Thomas county (lower Georgia), 119 bushels of Indian corn on one acre, which yielded a net profit of $77.17.

In the same county, the same year, Mr. E. T. Davis produced 96½ bushels of rust-proof oats per acre. After the oats were harvested he planted the same land in cotton, and in the fall gathered 500 pounds of seed cotton.

Mr. John J. Parker, of the same county, produced, in 1874, on one acre, 60½ gallons of cane syrup, at a cost of $7.50. The syrup, at 75 cents per gallon, the market price, brought $20.87—net profit from one acre, $43.43.

In 1874, Mr. Wiley W. Groover, of Brooks county (lower Georgia), produced, with two horses, on a farm of 1½ acres, wheat, 100 bushels; cotton, 100 bushels; corn, 1,000 bushels; sugar-cane and potato, to the value of $28,252. The total cost of production was $1,045.00, leaving net proceeds of crop $2,212.25. The stock raised on the farm was not counted.

Uncle Dick Hedges of the same county, produced, on one acre, 2,700 pounds of seed cotton; William Borden, 600 gallons of syrup; J. Bowe, 500 bushels of sweet potatoes; J. O. Morton, 75 bushels of oats; Mr. T. W. Jones made 12 barrels or 480 gallons of syrup on one acre, and saved enough cane for seed.

In 1874, Mr. H. T. Peeples, of Berrien county, reported to the state fair a crop of 800 bushels of sweet potatoes grown on one acre of pine land.

In 1874, Mr. G. J. Drake, of Spalding county (middle Georgia), produced 74 bushels of corn on one acre of land.

Inoculating for Cholera.

The Madrid papers are full of details on the experiments of inoculations as a preventive measure, which have been conducted in Sicily by a young Catalan physician, says the London Daily Telegraph. Dr. Jaime Ferran, in 1877, at the age of twenty, and after passing through the customary curriculum at the institutes of Tortosa and Tarragona, took his M. degree at Madrid. He has been in practice for seven years, and has, up to the time of this letter, started for Neddy with his chair. Ned dropped his whig basket and left his hat and sledked double in double quick time back to "Mars Billy" and a large crowd of exultant and happy whigs who had been witnessing the fun at a safe distance."

Babies are promptly cured by Red Star Cure. No opiates or poisons.

Mr. J. R. Rees, of Schley county, (lower Georgia), in 1877, by the use of fertilizers, grew on five acres of naturally poor land, 15,000 pounds of seed cotton, which netted him when sold, $66.02 per acre.

Mr. H. T. Peeples, of Berrien county, reported to the state fair a crop of 800 bushels of sweet potatoes grown on one acre of pine land.

In 1874, Mr. G. J. Drake, of Spalding county (middle Georgia), produced 74 bushels of corn on one acre of land.

Mr. J. R. Rees, of Carroll county, made three bushels of cotton (500 pounds each) on one acre, Mr. B. H. Sykes, of the same county, produced nine bales from five acres, without manures, and ninety-four bales from 100 acres by the use of fertilizers.

In 1874, Mr. S. W. Leak, of the same county, produced 1,172½ bushels of wheat, 1,172½ bushels of corn, 1,172½ bushels of oats, and 1,172½ bushels of beans, at a cost of $165.85 net profit $24.79 for a very small fraction over one acre.

Dr. William Jones, of Burke county, produced 400 gallons of syrup on one acre. Wesley Jones, of the same county, produced three bushels of cotton, 500 pounds each, per acre. James A. Davis, in the same year, and in 1874, the most remarkable four-bushel crop of cotton, 500 pounds each, 500 bushels of corn and 200 bushels of oats. William C. Palmer, of the same county, made in 1877, with one man, twenty-five bushels of cotton, 500 pounds each, and a fair crop of corn. Henry Miller, of same county, made in 1877, sixty-five bushels of corn per acre, first year on reclaimed swamp, without manure.

Mr. R. M. Brooks, of Pike county (middle Georgia), produced in 1874, on five acres of bottom land, 500 bushels of rice. The total cost was $75; net profit $300.

Mr. R. B. Parker, of Hancock county (middle Georgia), in 1874, harvested at the first cutting, first year's crop, 4,362 pounds of dry clover hay per acre.

Mr. A. J. Preston, of Crawford county, gathered from one acre of Flint river bottom, 4,000 pounds of seed cotton, and from another acre, 115 bushels of corn.

Mr. J. T. Massey, of Spalding county (middle Georgia), gathered in 1874, a little upwards of 500 bushels of oats from five acres.

Dr. T. P. Jones, of Greene county (middle Georgia), produced in 1874, five tons of clover hay per acre, in one season, at two cuttings.

Mr. J. T. Massey, of Spalding county (middle Georgia), gathered in 1874, a little upwards of 500 bushels of oats from five acres.

Mr. S. W. Leak, in Spalding county (middle Georgia), produced in 1874, five tons of clover hay per acre, in one season, at two cuttings.

ERIES ABOUT BOOKS.
he new novel, "Psyche," will readily win favor a large circle of readers. It is a pure and spelling story, and the author, Mrs. E. F. Parke, Georgian, formerly a resident of Atlanta, and the wife of a popular and useful minister.
"Psyche" is a strong and artistic piece of action and will doubtless be widely read.

Press, Funk & Wagnalls, New York, have issued "New Light on Mormonism," by Mrs. Ellen E. Dickson. Mrs. Dickson is related to Sammie Sudding, from whose stolen manuscript the book of Mormon was constructed. She gives a master-of-fact history of Mormonism from beginning down to the present time, and exposes the hideous features of this great religious and in the worst light.

Dr. William A. Hammond, with a third novel, "Mr. Oldman," published by Appleton & Co., New York. The story will be regarded by many as an improvement on "Sal" and "Dr. Graton." It analyzes certain phases of New York society, and abounds in strong and startling situations.

Hammond is far from being a great novelist, but the cannot write an uninteresting story.

"The Chemistry of Cookery," by W. Mather
Williams, published by Appleton & Co., New York, the thoughtful reader will find the entire exhaustively and intelligently discussed.

Housekeepers will not read this book but of families should read it, and then inter their cooks. As a common sense health and political and many others will find a reader in the "Life and Times of John Kelly,"

7, Fairfax McLaughlin, A. M., published by American news company, New York. The newspaper's chieftain is associated with the most stirring periods in the history of the democratic party. He has shown himself man of pluck, nerve, magnetism and power.

He has made many warm friends and devoted enemies. The biography of such a man cannot interest those who disapprove of his methods as well as those who have followed his leaders.

Facts that Crossed; or, Glimpses into the Early days of Methodism and Georgia," is a title of a book from the pen of Mrs. C. B.
Harris, of Atlanta. It is supposed to be more than this, Mrs. Howard has written, a most interesting history of Methodism in Georgia, a period that covers much of the history of Georgia itself. The sympathy, enthusiasm and enthusiasm which are marked features of the author Mrs. Howard is present the character of John Wesley and his co-workers in a new light. They live again in these pages. The book is published by the Southern Methodist Publishing House at Nashville, and is for sale at the Ladies' chamber of commerce building.

GOSSIP ABOUT SAM JONES.

In a late sermon, Sam Jones said: "A man is born down churches and curse preachers, order to stay out of Heaven. All he has to do is to go on the gospel train." There is a bit in this, that would save some folks a heap of trouble, if they would only see it.

Some Nashville people raised $10,000 with which to buy Jones a home in Nashville and made tender of the same through a committee headed by General W. H. Jackson. The preacher denied the gift.

The Nashville Union says editorially of Mr.
Jones:

He will be a wonder if the remarkable character of the man of attraction in this city does not this head. The publications of his sayings he has been in Nashville has attracted very great attention. The press from the north and south have given him a wide circulation and he is regarded as the most remarkable religious awakener which the country has seen for many years.

What Atlanta is doing for him is incomparable; the best people have crowded about him;
the violators of law have been caged up in him; the most prominent men of the city are in the theme of conversation. Society has been reformed and remedied by him.

For nearly three weeks the crowd to hear him has been the time

for service, whether it be 6 o'clock in the morning, or 8 at night, every day leading to a great number of people in the pews. Sometimes even seats are filled from two hours before preaching. Whether it be men's meeting or women's meeting or a mixed meeting, the people are crowded about him.

Every week he has been literally packed with people. Every week he has been in the strange preacher when he comes, every car is turned out to get him. In the naval world he is regarded as a monarch.

It is no exaggeration

that he is held upon society and his influence is felt in every corner of the south far to make him almost omnipotent.

That power is, or where it comes from, may be a mystery. Certain it is that he has conquered the entire dress and women as he has done in Nashville he will reach the point where he will be more powerful than any man in the world.

Sam Jones in this city has developed the character that he makes friends and admirers as no man ever did with the enlightened and cultured people of Nashville.

Cheap comfort! Get a "Latrope" window shades, we keep out curtains, dust, flies, etc. Gives you air. 33 Peachtree street; also room dividers, cheap.

Messrs. Nunnally & Rawson manufacture the finest candies, cakes and bread overshown in Atlanta. They offer nothing but fresh goods.

The District Conference was delegated to the annual conference W. A. Hemphill, J. C. Morrison, J. J. Bond and G. A. Howell were elected alternates.

Judge Speer having been called to Athens on account of the death of Colonel A. P. Dearring, his father-in-law, will not arrive to hold the United States court until Tuesday morning June 2nd.

The picnic of Evans Chapel, which was to have occurred last Saturday was delayed on account of the rain. It will be held at Stone mountain Wednesday. The train leaves at eight o'clock and returns at six o'clock.

This afternoon at four o'clock there will be the regular monthly reunion of all the Baptist Sunday schools of the city at the Second Baptist church. The Third and Sixth Baptist Sunday school will be present in body and sing some of their prize songs. It promises to be quite an interesting occasion.

"The Woman's Place," 110x212 feet, Capitol avenue, corner Clark street, high, shaded, beautiful. A dwelling combining everything of comfort and convenience this avocation is a social gathering place of the neighborhood is first class. Sale occurs at 12 o'clock next Tuesday. Plots at my office. Come to the sale.

SAMUEL W. GOODE.

To the Public, J. W. Shannon and W. C. Reynolds, house and sign, ornamental and decorative painters, do all kinds of work in the painting line. Mr. J. W. Shannon is one of the best gravers in the country. His studio was connected with the Western and Atlantic railroad for thirteen years as master car painter. All work done on short notice; prices to suit the times. Office under 19 Whitehall st.

Safe Sale of Real Estate. Three first-class homes at auction consecutively on the same day, is of rare occurrence even in the city of Atlanta, where auction sales are very frequent. On Tuesday next at 12 o'clock Mr. Sam'l W. Goode sells the "Woods place," on Capitol avenue, at the corner of Peachtree street. It is a large house, with a fine lawn in the rear. Immediately afterwards he will sell the new, modern, unique "Meekin place," No. 210 Capitol avenue; and the third at 12 o'clock next Tuesday, the same residence of Chas. W. Smith, Esq., No. 212 South Avenue. Surely those wishing houses on the south side can be suited at this sale.

What About Capitol Avenue? In the first place, two beautiful houses, No. 111 the "Woods place" and No. 213 the "Meekin place," will be sold at auction on this avenue at 12 o'clock, etc., Tuesday by Mr. Sam'l W. Goode. The avenue leads directly to the new state capitol, being erected at a cost of one million dollars. This avenue is macadamized and paved, and water and gas mains are laid. It is one of the highest in the city and gives excellent views, fine water and perfect drainage. This avenue is to be macadamized to Park avenue formerly called Anderson street. Park avenue is to be macadamized six blocks to Grant Park, thus making the most attractive drive on the south side. Some very expensive residences are being built on Capitol avenue, notably the new residence of Mr. W. C. Moore, the "Woods place." It is already lined on either side with the elegant homes of many of our best citizens, and a most eligible community to be found.

Another Victory for Atlanta. We notice that the gold medal has been awarded to the City Gate Stone Filter, owned by McBride & Co., of this city. This is but a just tribute to this celebrated water filter. We note with pleasure that our friends McBride & Co. have opened at No. 14 East Fourth street, New York city, for the manufacture of the filter. The filter has been increasing so much on these filters, and having to ship them all over the country besides the export trade which is looking up to large proportions, it is absolutely necessary for them to add more filters.

Another Victory for Atlanta. The firm is composed of high-toned, energetic business men, with great energy and they possess all the qualities essential to success.

They will fit the progress of these gentlemen, and pray for them the greatest success which their talents and efforts deserve. We are informed that their new catalogues are being printed in New York to give great satisfaction to their friends and relatives.

Special Notice
TO DRESSMAKERS.

We have a full assortment of M. HEMINWAY & SON'S SUBLIME QUALITY SPOOL SILKS AND BUTTON HOLE TWIST. This Sewing Silk has been in existence many years. Is the leading Silk in the Northern cities and recommended as the best Silk made. While the Heminway Spool Silk is valued higher in the market than most brands, we shall sell it at same price as other Silks, being satisfied with a smaller profit, feeling assured that we are giving our customers the best Spool Silk that can be purchased.

Our Angora Lace for over-suits is very pretty and reasonable in price, and it is no boasting when we say that we can show you the biggest stock of Embroideries and Laces in the city. Our prices are based on a small living profit. M. Rich & Bros.

New Art Square Tidies and Jap Fans, for decorating, just received.

Our stock of Wash Dress Goods has not its equal in the south, while our 15 cent Satines are sold all over the city at 25c. You will be delighted on seeing our stock of Fans. We have them from 5 cents to $35. M. Rich & Bros.

Just received a large line of new designs in Wilton Velvets for Parlors, Halls and Stairs, Libraries and Dining Rooms, besides additional designs in Crossley's Double Width English Tapestry Carpets with Rugs and Borders to match. We are selling all these popular goods at much lower prices than they have ever sold.

A complete Curtain Department, all the leading styles in Tambour, Guipure, Antique, Madras and Nottingham Lace Curtains, Turcoman, Chenille, Sheila and Japane Silk for Windows, Portières, etc. Full lines of curtain poles, cornices, etc., to correspond.

Having put up many awnings we are better prepared to do good work at reasonable prices than any other house. Our awnings do not need constant repair. M. Rich & Bros.

For this week we will offer the largest and best selected stock of dry goods, carpets and shoes that was ever shown in the south, at prices never before made on goods of the kind. You must remember that we have a good reason in being anxious to close this large and varied stock; we have no room where we are, and will do our best to close the entire stock to save expense and annoyance of moving back in the new store. Come this week. Entrance on Hunter street. Chamberlin, Johnson & Co.

PARLOR WORK

Made to order in any style, and old work re-upholstered at A. J. Miller's, 44 Peachtree St.

LAST TAX NOTICE.

Two-thirds of the time allowed by law to make state and county tax returns have passed, and not one third of the citizens have given in. Scarcely any of the professional men, and but very few business men and merchants have made their returns. Hope they will come in in time and not all crowd in on me the last few days before closing my books.
